New Features

Easily View Asset Usage!

Need to replace an asset that is being used or just curious about where it's used? By clicking the new Usage tab within an asset's All Details view, you can quickly see all of its usage - with the ability to filter by Collections, Publications, Templates, Shared Links, or Embedded Links. Easily click through any available links for direct access.

Improvements

Notifications for Revoked Quitclaim Documents

There's now an easier way to keep track of quitclaim revocations, so you don't have to worry about "broken" images being rendered. Instead of trying to manually remember expiration dates, Lytho will notify you when a revoked quitclaim asset is being shared or used in Create + Publish Templates or Publications so you can take the necessary actions.
